BURLEY TOBACCO

IMPORTANT NEWS.

Miss Loyd Expresses Views
Pledge Violation Discussed
Decision Reversed By Court of Appeals.

TEST OF DEMOCRACY UN.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 17.—The Court of Appeals to day by unanimous vote reversed the decision of Circuit Judge J. M. Benton, who appointed Lee S. Baldwin and Rufus Lisle receivers for the Burley Tobacco Society's pools of 1906 and 1907 and in an opinion written by Judge Ed. C. O'Rear declares that the action of the lower court was premature.

No decision is rendered as to the ownership of the $300,000 fund realized from the outgo fees of $3 a hoghead in the sale of the pooled crops of 1906 and 1907 which were sold to the American Tobacco Company and the independent manufacturers in the fall of 1908.

Cash Reverts To Society.

The money of the Burley Tobacco now deposited in Clark county is released from the hands of the receivers and probably will be immediately withdrawn from Winchester banks and deposited in Lexington.

The News At Lexington.

Within a few minutes after the decision of the Court of Appeals Friday, reversing the decision of Judge J. M. Benton, of Clark county, which had previously placed the pools of 1906 and 1907 crops of the Burley Tobacco Society in the hands of a receiver, the news had been flashed into the offices of the Burley Society in Lexington.

Although it had been stated by members of the society that such a decision would be the only outcome of the split, there was a general smile of satisfaction that the expected had happened.

The opinion of the higher court that the decision of the circuit tribunal is premature is based upon the fact that while 90 per cent of the $300,000 received for the two pools has been paid out, there are still pending suits against the Burley Society filed by the independent manufacturers and suits on behalf of the Society against the independent producers arising from their failure to take and pay for the crops assigned to them in the meeting at Louisville, which ended the long tobacco war and in which the growers won practically every point which they had contended.

It was extremely gratifying both to the attorneys and the Executive Board that the Court of Appeals by a unanimous decision, without any dissent, sustained the position of the Society with reference to the funds in the hands of the Clark County banks.

Miss Lloyd Expresses Views.

When asked by a representative of The Herald for the expression of her views regarding the reversal by the Court of Appeals of the decision of the Clark County Circuit Court, Miss Lloyd said:

"I long ago became convinced that the principles involved in the tobacco growers organization are essentially right and that the final victory of the principals depends upon the growers themselves. No forces from the outside will be strong enough to defeat them if they present a solid front to the opposition. But when for minor matters and small misunderstandings they take to the courts matters which should be settled within their own governing bodies; when a small minority urges a course contrary to the views and interests of the majority; when personal envy, jealousy and narrow-mindedness takes the place of a broad and comprehensive view that has for its ultimate end the greatest good of the greatest number, the friction so engendered may accomplish what opposing forces from the outside are unable to accomplish.

Two Views of Questions.

"Looked at in one way, the receivership contest so far as the Burley Tobacco Society is concerned may be viewed as a fight simply to maintain its ground and not as making any advance upon the enemy. Looked at in another way it does tend to solve a question of the power of the majority.

"The tendency as a whole has been to unify the rank and file in their support of their only elected representatives. It is a notable fact that the two great fights of the present year have been against factions and would-be friends of the farmers in our own ranks. Most of the money, energy and effort spent in the summer campaign was spent in undoing harm that had been done by those who either misunderstood or misrepresented.

"A loose leaf warehouseman said in Lexington recently: The Tobacco Trust cannot afford to let the Burley Tobacco Company succeed this year. If this society goes on two or three years with the 10 per cent stock in the Burley Tobacco Company, the farmers organization will be as strong and powerful as the tobacco trust itself."

Is As It Should Be.

"This is just as it should be, and if every grower will refuse either to buy or sell stock in the Burley Tobacco Company, the power and strength of the farmers will be proportionately and equitably distributed. It lies with the farmer to accomplish these results.

"If the holders of the stock are inclined to provoke factions and create friction would think seriously of the large interests involved, we would certainly not have a repetition of the two distressing instances that have given trouble to the ball. The ballot is the means for righting all wrongs and in as Democratic an organization as the Burley Tobacco Society there is no occasion for an appeal to any other agency for redress.

What It Has Been Done.

"Whether he be a member of the Burley Tobacco Society or not, no intelligent observer of the events of the last four years can fail to recognize that the Burley Tobacco Society has brought to the state many millions of dollars in return for her tobacco crop. Then why should the Society be opposed by any citizen who wishes the greatest good to the greatest number.

"If the holding of his crop while others sell, works hardship on any grower it is but the history of every advance movement. We have inherited civil and religious liberty because of centuries of struggle on the part of those who have lived before us. We shall prove unworthy of our traditions and our inheritance if we do not show undaunted courage and determination in winning for ourselves and those who come after us economic freedom.

Solid Front Only Is Necessary.

"One of the most conservative men on the Executive Committee said a day or two since:

"We have won if only the growers stand pat. We have got the tobacco and the manufacturers will soon have to have it. All we have got to do is to keep a solid front." This man talks little and thinks much. He does not deceive himself by believing what is most agreeable to him. He speaks with knowledge of conditions and a large and successful experience.

Pledge Violation Discussed.

"No man who has any just appreciation of what the issue really is and of what his citizenship means will allow any inducement to make him violate his pledge. The issue is on in this country between the widely scattered, unorganized producers of raw materials and the closely organized manufacturers and transportation companies. Unless the producers learn to stand together they are hopelessly at the mercy of the manufacturers and transportation companies who do combine.

The test is on as to whether a Democracy can be maintained or whether human nature is so constituted that the masses must serve the classes. The man who fails to have his blood stirred by the situation is hopelessly inferior either in character or intelligence.

Unworthy Name of Citizen.

"The man who for any reason that could be presented to him would violate his pledge is not a man, and is unworthy the name of an American citizen. He is helping to build up a peasantry and a plutocracy in this country. He is unworthy as the traditions of the republic and the public school teachers, the preachers and the editors would be well within the line of their duty if they spared no pains to teach the citizen and the children their duty in this matter.

"The fight is not for a fair price for this year only, but for a strong organization that will make fair prices for years to come and that will tend to a more even distribution of the nation's wealth."

ANOTHER RECORD BREAKER.

$8.75 1-2 For Hogs on Louisville Market.

Last week we noted the sale of a car load of hogs on the Louisville market by W. H. Crawford and Company, at $8.35 per hundred, the highest price reached within the last 30 years. On Tuesday of this week the same firm sold another car load of 78 head, averaging 214 pounds at $8.75 per 100 lbs. This makes another high record for this market and so far as we know this tops the market for this year of any market in the United States. These hogs were fed by Walters & Coleman, of Mercer county, Ky., and were quite a smooth fat lot and shows that Kentucky as a hog State does with the very best. They were "bred in old Kentucky," raised and fed in Kentucky. Kentucky is the best hog State in the Union and Louisville is the best hog market in the United States.—Farmers Home Journal.

MRS. BEARD.

Dies Sunday at Her Home in Hardinsburg - Wife of Clayton
Beard-Funeral Held Monday.

Hardinsburg, Dec. 20.—(Special).—Clara Lewis Kincheol Beard was born the 30th day of May 1838, departed this life 19th of Dec. 1909, aged seventy-three.

Her mother was Clara Reno and her father was Judge Jesse White Kincheol. She was the wife of Clayton Beard.

In her early life she was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church of which she was always a loyal faithful member.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Isaiah Gline in the Methodist Church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Beard was a woman of much usefulness in her community. No trouble nor sickness ever occurred that she was not only always ready and willing, but always one on whom every one could depend for conscientious assistance. Probably there is hardly a home in Hardinsburg in which she has not been a "ministering Angel" in some respect, helping the sick and cheering the aged and infirm and lending assistance to poor. Her life was a benediction in the community and her presence in and out among the people will be missed.

The coldest most disagreeable weather never caused her to turn aside from her pleasure and duty, administering to some friend's need.

She was laid to rest near her father and mother in the City Cemetery Monday afternoon.

The pall bearers were her six nephews, Allen R. Lewis, Franklin, Morris Backner, Lindsey and Allen Kincheol.

Five sisters and two brothers survive her loss.

Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord.

They rest from their labors, and their works do follow them.

CLOVERPORT, KY., WEDNESDAY, DEC. 22, 1909

Hon. Ben Johnson, our present Representative in Congress, has announced that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress before the convention which will be held in the district next March. Mr. Johnson has made such an acceptable member in Congress from this district that he is not likely to have any opposition for a renomination. He is a man of ability, and one who looks after the interest of all of his constituents in the district. Moreover he is well acquainted now with our needs, having had much experience in the legislative halls. The News predicts that the support of Mr. Johnson, because of his loyalty to the party, and for the further reason that he has made an able member in Congress, and will in the future be in a position to do better work than he has ever done.

The Barley Tobacco organization is the best thing the farmer ever had presented to him. It is the only organization that can stand up against the trust. Farmers had better nurse it and stand by it if they want fair prices for their tobacco.

Before I took the medicine I did not know what it was to be bed without having the asthma. Systemic Catarrh. Mr. Samuel Hurden, 201 Springfield Ave., Summit, N. J., writes: "In the fall of 1901 I had repeated attacks of cold, which developed into systemic catarrh. It left me very weak and all run down. When I got up in the morning it would take about an hour to get my head and throat clear. It also left me with a very weak, all-gone, empty feeling in my stomach, which I thought was dyspepsia, for which I tried different remedies with very little improvement. I finally decided to give Peruna a trial. I felt benefited with the first dose. After taking three bottles I was cured. I cannot speak in too high terms of your wonderful discovery, Peruna." Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio. Ask Your Druggist for Free Peruna Almanac for 1910.

AROUND THE CORNER.
 The other day a very beautiful woman, young and with attractive brown eyes, came into the post-office just as the usual crowd had gathered to get the mail. She was the cynosure. She was indifferent to the surroundings and seemed not to see the interested audience to whom she was unconsciously playing, and for that her attractiveness was very great. In a second or two after the window went up, she asked for mail for Mrs. — herself. Girls were relieved of their jealousy and the men's curiosity subsided to some extent, but a few queries followed her as she passed out the door. It was learned from inquiring persons that this interesting stranger was the wife of a dope fiend, who had come near Cloverport to stay with a house of trying to cure himself of the dreadful cure. Every week she comes to the office to get the letter that brings them the amount from his audacious mother to provide the two with bread and meat.

Mrs. Jordan had not been in perfect health for many years, but her condition was not regarded as serious until about two weeks before her death, at which time it became apparent that she was a very sick woman. Skilled physicians, a competent nurse and many kind friends stood faithfully by her bedside ready and willing to minister to her every want, but the sad ending of a useful life came. She was a woman always kind to her family and to her friends. Had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church for more than thirty years. The funeral services were held at the home and beautifully conducted by the Methodist pastor, Rev. May, and the ladies of the Eastern Star. Her remains were interred in Cedar Hill cemetery at Irvington.

Obituary.

On Dec. 3, 1909, the home of Gideon P. Burdett was made sad when the Angel of Death, for the second time in the course of a year, entered therein and carried to its reward the soul of one whom we loved so well.

Mrs. Gideon P. Burdett, nee, Mary J. Mattingly, was fifty-five years of age and was a victim of that dreaded disease, tuberculosis. She was a devout Catholic throughout her life.

Ever faithful in her duties and obligations so that as a Christian mother there can be no doubt in the minds of those who knew her but that she now enjoys the blessings of eternal rest.

She has left to mourn her loss a husband, Gideon P., and eleven children, as follows: Francis M., Raymond S., James L., Vera M., Emma J., Mary K., Elizabeth L., Joseph D., Beulah, Patrick and Anna. Samuel Richard Burdett, the youngest son, is but a few months past the tender age of infancy.

While the bereaved are deeply and justly mourning the loss of their loved one, the friends and relatives are united in sympathy and condolence. The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock on Monday, December 13, at the residence of the deceased. The interment will be in the cemetery at 2 o'clock on the same day.
